A City of Seguin Newsletter

Staff continues work on improvement projects

SEGUIN, Texas – Fresh paint, ADA compliant ramps, new utility poles... City staff is hard at work making the complex a great place to host your event. Facilities Manager Josh Farrell is proud of the results so far.

“All of the work we’ve been putting into the complex is really starting to pay off. It’s amazing the difference a fresh coat of paint and better lighting can make,” said Farrell.

In this issue of the newsletter, we’ll update you on the latest improvements happening at the events complex. We also adds to the list of upcoming and down-the-road projects planned.

Feedback from Hot Shot Fish Fry:

"The Events Complex Pavilion was the perfect alternative location for our annual Hotshot's Reunion & Fish Fry - normally held at the Patricia K. Irvine -King Pavilion at Max Starcke Park East. The Pavilion kept us safe and dry and allowed easy access to vendors, volunteers, entertainers and the GVEC Cook Team. And the audience who attended were glad to have a solid surface on which to park. City staff was, as always, a pleasure to work with and our event was a success despite the rain."
